MASTIO recently published the 2016, 20th Edition of the industry wide Natural Gas Marketer Customer Value / Loyalty Benchmarking Study and is pleased to present its findings. The study was released to subscribers in December.

The 2016 study is based on 669 interviews with industrial/commercial customers, LDC's, and independent power producers. Each respondent rated who they buy their gas from on 31 attributes such as:

Ease of doing business.	Problems are resolved in a timely manner.
Ease of initiating gas purchases.	Responsiveness of sales representative.
Easy to contact the sales rep.	Sales representatives who listen well.
Price competitiveness.	Supplier is honest and trustworthy.

The study also asks several open-ended questions. For example, all respondents are asked "What do you feel is the most significant challenge you face when purchasing natural gas". Respondents are also asked "What was the biggest disappointment you have experienced with each of your marketers over the last 12 months".

The study findings are divided into the following group located on the proceeding pages:

- Major Marketers
- Regional Marketers

Mastio & Company is a research-consulting firm that helps its clients maximize business performance by conducting studies that address three critical aspects of managing every business, which are to understand your customer, your competition, and your organization.

Mastio & Company conducts numerous multi-client and proprietary studies on a yearly basis. The majority of our engagements deal with organizational alignment. This concept uses metrics to design an organization that is better aligned with customers than the competition to win more business and increase profits. We also help clients bridge the gaps between analysis, interpretation, actions and successful deployment of a value based strategy.

Mastio & Company is celebrating nearly 30 years of providing actionable information to its clients. We are headquartered in St. Joseph, Missouri with an additional location in Houston, Texas. Our research is done primarily through telephone interviews from our call centers in the U.S. and the U.K. We also collect data from web-based platforms, mail and focus groups. All research is collected by an industry-experienced staff that adheres to stringent quality-control procedures. Mastio has served over 300 clients and has developed and managed over 300 successful business-to-business industry-focused projects, primarily in commodity driven industries such as but not limited to energy, utilities, transportation, logistics, plastics and chemicals. Our staff has extensive experience guiding successful research projects in North America & Europe.
